Regulation (EU) 2025/40 (PPWR)

Dear Sir or Madam,

Thank you for your enquiry regarding Regulation (EU) 2025/40 on packaging and packaging waste (PPWR). In accordance with Article 4(1) of the PPWR, from 12 August 2026 onwards, only packaging or products packaged that comply with the requirements of the PPWR applicable at the time of placing on the market may be placed on the Union market. As virtually every delivery of goods involves the use of packaging, the significance of the PPWR for the distribution of goods on the EU market cannot be overstated.

Provided that you are not acting as an end user and therefore wish to continue making our packaged products available on the market, we are aware that, from 12 August 2026, you will in turn require products in 'PPWR-compliant' packaging for your business activities. For this reason, and to fulfil our own legal obligations, we are working intensively with our suppliers to implement the PPWR.

It goes without saying that our aim is to ensure that only packaging that complies with the labelling requirements and material restrictions set out in Article 5(4) of the PPWR – and which is supported by an EU declaration of conformity and technical documentation – is used for the delivery of our products. In this context, we would like to highlight that the PPWR does not apply to products that have already been placed on the EU market prior to 12 August 2026.

We have initiated an internal role assessment and are progressively aligning our processes with the upcoming requirements that take effect on 12 August 2026. Please be advised that many of the specific future requirements under the PPWR have not yet been finalized, as the relevant implementing regulations from the European Commission are still pending.

Consequently, it is currently not possible to provide exhaustive details on all future obligations.
